Invite your followers to follow @NCSNNurses. Update Your Contact Information

Don't forget to keep your contact information up to date. How many times have you moved in the last 5 years. How many different jobs have you had? We will send your initial reminder about recertification by snail mail one year prior to your recertification date. Subsequent reminders will go to your email. If we cannot contact you we can't keep you abreast of news, information, important updates. Our last email blast had a 1% bounce rate. That doesn't sound like a lot but it is over 400 NCSNs that didn't receive the information. Our open rate is about 50% which is a good open rate, but 50% of our certificants didn't learn about the volunteer opportunities we have available. You can earn recertification credits by helping us develop exams.

Call for Volunteers-Last Call

The call for volunteers will close on March 5th 2017. How cool would it be to be involved in NCSN test development? We need volunteers for all demographics. New NCSNs, seasoned NCSNs, school nurses with a varied amount of experience, school nurses from various parts of the country. You can earn certification credit by participating and you don't have to leave your house. Item Writing or Item Review, Form Review, Problem Item Analysis, Recertification committee, we need your help.

NASN 2017 From Evidence to Action

Don't forget the NASN Conference in San Diego June 30-July3 2017. If you have never been to San Diego now is your chance, great place to visit.
